

DECORATE

Clockwise from top left: Thalus Oweniamus watercolor by Alphonse Goossens (1866-1944) from Arader Galleries; French 1940s red chinoiserie cabinets attributed to Maison Jansen from Guy Regal NYC; Roman carnelian intaglio, first century A.D., from Phoenix Ancient Art.

The SF Fall Show celebrates its 40th anniversary with plenty of panache as dozens of top fine arts dealers from around the world—think Artistic, present precious paintings, antique furniture, vintage jewelry, objets d'art and so much more. Don't miss riveting lectures from Hamish Bowles, the honorary chair and Vogue global editor-at-large, and step into the chic opening night gala (Oct. 12), a place to see and be seen. Oct. 13-16, Festival Pavilion, Fort Mason Center, 2 Marina Blvd., 415.445.6701, sfallshow.org

Koopman Rare Art and Rainforest Baskets—

STAY

Newly nestled in the Tenderloin, the LINE Hotel San Francisco boasts 236 guest rooms and 242 residences among its 12 stories, plus multiple dining experiences (one with a rooftop solarium) and various luxury retail spaces. Designed by Handel Architects and Bjarke Ingels Group, the building reflects a contemporary interpretation of the historic architecture surrounding it. We recommend the 1,500-square-foot penthouse suite with a king bedroom, living room, kitchenette, private balcony and sumptuous soaking tub, perfect for a relaxing staycation. 33 Turk St., 415.475.0000, thelinehotel.com/san-francisco

Expect opulent accommodations at the new LINE Hotel San Francisco.

WATCH

Tony and Grammy Award-winning Broadway musical Jagged Little Pill is finally making its way west. The musical is inspired by the eponymous album by alternative rock artist Alanis Morissette and features many of her songs, including some originals. Written by the critically acclaimed Diablo Cody, this explosive production explores complex family relationships, pain, healing and, ultimately, empowerment. Golden Gate Theatre Stage, 1 Taylor St., 888.746.1799, broadwaysf.com

The play's cast rocks out with heart and soul.

SF ART SHOW PHOTOS COURTESY OF DEALERS; LINE HOTEL PHOTO BY CHASE DANIEL; PLAY PHOTO BY MATTHEW MURPHY